AT THE HELM

MR. M. M. SRIVASTAVA
FOUNDER

I congratulate you on stepping into the portals of City Law College, an institution 'Built by Excellence, Backed by Experience'. The college in its endeavour to ensure competence at all levels of education, intends to maintain high standards in terms of teaching-learning, research, faculty and infrastructure.

The reputation of an institution of higher learning is based on the character and performance of individuals who work and live in it, the teachers and students; There can be distractions and setbacks in the making of an institution. There can be challenges which may appear formidable. But, those who have the will, determination and perseverance shall overcome the difficulties and attain higher levels of achievement in the pursuit of excellence. This is the lesson of history which City Law College has assimilated in its work culture.

Being the inheritors of the culture of an institution, the students are its real torch bearers and legacy holders. As their mentors, supporters, guides and philosophers, we always strive to make them pillars of strength for generations to come so that they continue to hold aloft the repute of the college.

I am absolutely sure that as always, the learning process initiated by this institution would be sacredly followed by the students and they would establish themselves as separate identities. I believe my students will make nation and the CLC proud. I am hopeful that the college will scale new heights of glory in its onward march.

Welcome to the City Law College family.

Supervisions

provide regular small-group tuition with subject specialists.

There is such amazing teaching quality in both lectures and supervisions that you really do learn your course at an incredibly high level and can push well beyond the fundamentals and into the detail of the things you're interested in."

Mr. Abhishek Chaudhary
P.C.S. (J) 2018
Batch of 2013 - 2018

How you're taught

Our College faculties and departments arrange lectures, seminars and practical that students from all Colleges attend together. In our college you'll also attend supervisions, a system of personal tuition that is one of our greatest strengths. Your College arranges supervisions for you.

You can find expected term dates on our website. As the terms are short, the pace and volume of work is likely to be greater than you're currently used to and there's much greater emphasis on independent and self-directed study here compared to other school or college. During term time, you're expected to spend an average of 42-46 hours a week on your academic studies, and you also need to undertake some work, such as further reading or research, revision or assignments, during the vacations.

Every student adjusts to this new workload in their own way and time, and there are plenty of people who can offer advice and support while you get settled in and throughout your degree.

Teaching methods

Lectures

Lectures act as a starting point for your own research and typically last around 40 minutes. Depending on the subject, anywhere up to several hundred students may attend in-person. In other cases, where there are good reasons to do so, a blend of in-person and online lectures is delivered. Many lecturers are leading academics working at the forefront of their field, so lectures are a fantastic opportunity to find out about the latest research.

Seminars and classes

These are usually for medium-sized groups, last between one and two hours, and provide the opportunity to discuss particular topics in more detail. They're led by academics

Practicals

Practical work on some courses are coordinated and assessed.

Supervisions

Small-group sessions most often for between one and three students, supervisions provide the opportunity to explore your subject more deeply, discuss your own work and ideas, and receive regular feedback. As they aren't assessed, supervisions are the ideal environment for you to test your ideas and interests, while encouraging you to develop your thinking. Typically, you have one or two hour-long supervisions each week (this varies from course to course) and you do preparation for each one – usually reading, writing an essay or working on some problems. Supervisors are specialists in particular

Field trips, study visits, Court Visit

During the course, the students are required to do jail visits, court visits and visit to villages to empower villagers and educate them about their basic legal rights.

Independent research

A chance to carry out your own research, test out theories and put forward your own ideas. Your work might even get published while you're still a student.

Work experience

Some courses include a period of work experience, giving you a chance to explore potential career paths, develop your employability skills and create networks that could lead to job opportunities after you graduate.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS

In the highly competitive world of today, there is a pressing need to produce dynamic minds who can adapt to the changing environment and complex situations prevalent in today's work spaces with innovation and guile. The College is also conscious of its social responsibility in strengthening India's vulnerable shoots: the Indian Youth. Today, careers are no longer chalked out as a set way of life as days of yore. Young adults such as the ones who grace our halls of learning are at an important juncture in their lives, where they can make a decision as vital as to choose a course as a stepping stone for the future. Of course, it is a tough choice to make but the outstanding and exemplary set by the college makes it easier.

Since the mission of the College is to impart quality education, it constantly strives to attract the best faculty and the most motivated of students and provide good infrastructure and a secure, fertile and supportive environment in its Institutions. The College, in-fact, continues to look for excellence in every aspect of its activities to develop the students into leaders of tomorrow who will make name not only for themselves but also for their Institution and nation.

ABOUT COLLEGE

There has been an increase in globalization of business, growth of the Indian economy and advancement in technology which has resulted in enormous rise to complex legal issues in the society at large and that has brought about a paradigm change in the role of legal professionals. Thus, a person with legal knowledge has the ability not only to litigate in courts, but also become a policy planner, business advisor, mediator, negotiator, a lobbyist, an effective communicator and also a reformer. Legal education has become vibrant and no longer seen as the last resort. Activities in project finance, intellectual property protection, environmental protection, competition law, corporate taxation, infrastructure contract, corporate governance and investment law were almost unknown before 1990's. The past decade has been a mini revolution in legal service sector with the greatest legal impact on corporate legal arena. It has become one of the most lucrative professions and thus quality education in law is absolutely necessary.

Our College aim at providing excellent education to equip its students at social engineering and become capable of confronting various challenges posed by the field of law. The faculty intends to achieve holistic excellence in the arena of legal education. The curriculum has been designed in a unique manner to amalgamate the law students with the society. The programme seeks to promote multi-disciplinary analysis of the socio-legal problems by designing its course-structure and teaching methods to realize these objectives. The methods of teaching in the Law Colleges include lecture discussions, case law analysis, moot court training, project assignment and placement programmes. In addition, the College organizes seminars on contemporary legal issues, conducts clinical courses and trains students in legal research and legal writing.

In order to achieve its aim, the College appoint faculty who have specialized in various fields of law and attempt not only to educate the students but also make them aware of the future possibilities in law as a career.

ACTIVITIES AT COLLEGE OF LEGAL STUDIES

MOOT COURTS

The Moot Court Society (MCS) is the student committee and is entrusted with the responsibility of administering mooting activities and upholding the high standards of excellence that the CLC has set itself. Mooting activity is the closest experience to being a lawyer while still studying law. It involves identifying legal issues in situations, exhaustive research in that area of law, followed by extensive written submissions and grueling orals before a bench of eminent judges, overall its everything a lawyer is expected to do.

MCS is composed of students who have themselves won various national moots and thus they play an effective role in facilitating and regulating mooting at CLC. Due to the continuous hard work and support, teams from our colleges have participated and won moots in NLU Jaipur, Amity Law College, NLV Patiala, Kurukshetra University, KIIT, B.R. Ambedkar moot court, etc. We have also encouraged our students to participate in various competitions like the Manfred Lachs Space Law Moot India Funding Round, on behalf of the Indian Space Research Organization, to select the team to be funded by ISRO for the Manfred Lachs Moot in Australia; and the NLS-NFCG Moot, organized to provide better management in company affairs.

MCS's second major mandate is to constitute the University Moot Team, a process which stretched over 2 months and incorporates 3 rounds of mooting, culminating in a ranking of those selected to represent the CLC at various national and international moots. The teams have maintained an enviable record in national level moot court competitions by performing in a stellar fashion at moots such as the Bar Council of India Trust Moot, the D.M. Harish Moot, the Kerala Law Academy Moot, the Luthra & Luthra Moot, the M.M. Singhvi Moot and the Surana&Surana International Technology Law Moot.

DEBATE SOCIETY

Debate as activity encourages you to present your views in-front of an audience, which altogether makes you confident and improves your public speaking skills. Since, time and again it has been felt that the law students must possess these set of speaking skills, our College attempts to encourage its students to take part and develop a habit of public speaking. Thus with an aim to promote, train and provide a platform for the promotion of a debating culture the College established a Debating Society headed . The Society regularly conducts orientation sessions introducing students to different forms of debating. The Society meets regularly and conducts debates on varied range of topics inculcating not only the art of speaking but also instilling a culture of healthy discussion. Students debate on various issues ranging from culture, history, politics, current affairs, law, sports and music. The gamut of topics discussed further engages students in reading more and being well-informed. One of the primary functions of the society is to conduct debate windows, which serve as the platform for selection of students who will represent the College in various tournaments held in India and abroad.

SEMINARS/GUEST LECTURES

We have an expertise in conducting different seminars with visiting lecturers, who are accomplished educationists and academicians that have considerable experience of theoretical and practical world. Throughout the duration of the course we offer numerous interactions with esteemed faculties of different fields, who can guide and shape the better future of our young intellectuals. At Law Seminars, we focus on providing the information they need to be at the forefront of their profession. In our complex world, there are no purely legal, business or public policy issues. Our goal is to provide information in its full context so that our student will have a more comprehensive understanding of issues as they arise.

India has more than 1000 Law colleges of different levels of quality and development along side various National Law Schools standing for excellence in legal education. However, the dilemma of 'What next?' torments many a law student. If there is a lack of personal initiative backed by family support and suitable socio-economic context, a law graduate may not fulfill any of the possible and achievable dreams. Further, the directionless drifting attitude of teens requires to be managed and their potential needs to be channeled in the right direction. In a country like India, which is still developing, 'employability', despite having higher professional education still remains a question. Right mix of knowledge, skills and values, in this context, could usher in a positive transformation in the student. Alongside, the professional skills, other skills such as people skills, life skills, team skills and most of all communication skills are required. While combined with right knowledge and ethical values, legal profession could revive its old heritage of leading the nationalist freedom struggle and creating role models. Further, it could touch the core of public service.

Keeping in mind these views we have formulated student developmental policies, and countless interactions with several faculties of domestic and foreign universities, we tend to serve our student's personal and academic development.

None of us is an expert on everything, so bringing in speakers with proven expertise in a topic provides added credibility to our content. Hearing new voices provides students not only with different points-of-view, but also with potential resources they can apply in later courses.

Guest speakers have become an important part of the educational experience for students. They expose students to real-world life experiences from the position of someone who has been there. Students get to see the insight and perspective of the guest speaker's particular field.

INTERNSHIPS

From the commencement of the initial year in college to the time a student passes out, the Placement Cell is responsible for assisting and providing internships to students. Working while the student is learning helps to discover their areas of interest, finally through the placement cell that all arrangements of students with their prospective employers are engineered, be it Internship, PPO or Campus Recruitment.

INTERNSHIP PROCESS

The main aim of internships is to provide a smooth transition from the academic world to the real work environment. An increasing number of law schools require the completion of an internship as a prerequisite to graduation.

As the legal field has become more complex and legal employment opportunities have multiplied exponentially, the definition of a 'traditional internship' has evolved greatly. The Placement Cell facilitates several different types of internship opportunities such as:

1.	Judicial clerkships	2.	Legal clinics
3.	Summer clerkships	4.	Pro bono Projects
5.	Law firm Internships	6.	Corporate Houses

These programs places students in law offices, courts and public interest organizations with the goal of providing real-world legal experience under the guidance of faculty members, licensed attorneys and sitting judges.

OBJECTIVES OF AN INTERNSHIP PROGRAMME

- * It helps the students in gaining practical experience in a real work environment.
- * It assists the students in being more responsive to market requirements when choosing their area of specialization.
- * It increases the awareness of students about the multitude of career options present in the legal world.
- * It assists the development of professional skills and etiquette in a student.

TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMMES

Increasingly, law firms and chambers recruit applicants who have a portfolio of specific skills to equip them to succeed in legal practice. While talking to the graduate recruitment managers of leading law firms about what they look for in desirable candidates, need to reform it.

Career & Professional Development Cell also endeavors to provide such opportunities to all batches of students to develop skills important for legal professionals. The objective of this program is to bring about personality development with regard to different behavioral and attitudinal factors that have far reaching significance in the direction of personal, institutional and organizational effectiveness.

CAREERS AT LAW

For those with an inclination towards public service and/or the trappings of state authority, the judiciary can be a worthwhile option. There are several avenues for law graduates after the completion of their course. We have started a great initiative for all the young intellectuals who are in need of guidance and assistance. We provide free Coaching classes for all stages of Civil Services Examination, we also offer coaching for several competitive examinations. We serve Quality education and specialized professional studies to our students. The most career promising avenues that has intrigued most of the graduates are PCS(J) and APOs.

PCS(J)

Every High Court has under its supervision the members of the subordinate judiciary of the state(s) over which this High Court has jurisdiction. Members of the subordinate judiciary (popularly known as the judicial service or the PCS (J)-Provincial Civil Service-Judicial) occupy the offices of the presiding officers of various courts right up to the post of District Judge.

ASSISTANT PROSECUTION OFFICER

The State Government shall appoint in every district one or more Assistant Public Prosecutors for conducting prosecutions in the Courts of Magistrates. The Central Government may appoint one or more Assistant Public Prosecutors for the purpose of conducting any case or class of cases in the Courts of Magistrates. The Public Prosecutor is the holder of a public office. He is not a part of the investigating agency.

Apart from these two mainstream career options, law graduates are also attracted towards the-

- * Corporate Council of MNCs
- * Regulatory Assistance to Banking and Financial sectors
- * Numerous roles in High Court and Civil Court
- * Academics

HUMAN VALUES AND VALUE EDUCATION COURSE OBJECTIVES

THIS INTRODUCTORY COURSE INPUT IS INTENDED –

1. To help the students appreciate the essential complementarity between 'VALUES' and 'SKILLS' to ensure sustained happiness and prosperity, which are the core aspirations of all human beings.
2. To facilitate the development of a Holistic perspective among students towards life and profession as well as towards happiness and prosperity based on a correct understanding of the Human reality and the rest of Existence. Such a holistic perspective forms the basis of Universal Human Values and movement towards value-based living in a natural way.
3. To highlight plausible implications of such a Holistic understanding in terms of ethical human conduct, trustful and mutually fulfilling human behavior and mutually enriching interaction with Nature, Thus, this course is intended to provide a much needed orientational input in value education to the young enquiring minds.

COURSE OUTCOME:

1. The students are able to see that verification on the basis of natural acceptance and experiential validation through living is the only way to verify right or wrong, and referring to any external source like text or instrument or any other person cannot enable them to verify with authenticity; it will only develop assumptions.
2. The students are able to see that their practice in living is not in harmony with their natural acceptance most of the time, and all they need to do is to refer to their natural acceptance to remove this disharmony.
3. LEGAL AID CLINIC

The Legal Aid Clinic at City Law College is fully functional with a student body supervised by the faculty to provide pro-bono legal aid to general public (usually to those, who can't otherwise afford it). The composition of the Clinic is as follows:

1. Faculty Head:
2. Student Convener:
3. Student Co-Convener:
4. RTI Head:

The Clinic has been continuously addressing the issues of the nearby localities in respect to shortage of water, electricity, roads, domestic issues, etc. The students have taken the initiative to aware the people about their legal rights by the way of nukkad-natak, campaigns or by visiting their homes for personal interactions. It is an attempt at the most basic level to aware and provide the citizens of India of their entitled rights.

In addition to our Legal Aid Clinic we have also started a helpline number which serves the society by providing a helping hand to the elderly people and women, as we share strong affection and emotion for them. We have also taken a beautiful initiative as an NGO for elderly abused people, who are emotionally and physically traumatized by their loved ones.

We have also started a Public Forum on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays for a generic discussion regarding law practices and other important sectors of our society. This public forum is open to all including passed out students.

Gender Sensitization Committee

MISSION

The Women Cell shall strive to create a better and just society by empowering women.

VISION

To make the cell a unique platform for the development of its members, by providing them opportunities to contribute towards the betterment of the society

OBJECTIVES

The Cell seeks to create awareness about important issues related to women and provides a forum for discussion and deliberation on a range of issues such as one's body, sexuality and gender. We question patriarchy; discuss women's position in society, fundamentalism, inequality, crime against women and various other issues that affect our daily lives. This not only initiates debate and dialogue but also facilitates the process of breaking away from our class/caste lineages to position ourselves in a broader socio-political context.

This is achieved by way of conducting talks, seminars, presentations, workshops, film festivals and other activities organized by the cell. The cell is equipped with a professional counselor to deal with a student's problems and offer solutions to them.

The cell also aims to reach out to Women in the rural areas and make them aware of their social and legal rights and to equip them to stand against gender violence and gender discrimination.

The CLC has its own collection of feminist literature, which will soon be made accessible to students. Students may feel free to mail us with their suggestions and queries at info@cgclko.com

Means

Performing skits and road plays for creating awareness in society.

Organizing Group discussions, Speech, Debate, Essay writing, Extempore, Posters etc on Gender issues to sensitize students.

Arranging lectures of highly qualified and successful Women.

On 13th, 14th and 15th March 2015, an International Seminar on Social Security in Neo Liberal India, under the guidance of Mr. Praveen Gupta, Secretary of Organizing Committee was held, in which the college received more than 1500 research papers from colleges in India and abroad. Dr. Smith, a renowned professor from Australia put across his substantial views on Gender Equality and its importance. He favored egalitarian social order for the proper progress of the country. Scholars from Nigeria, Nepal and Bangladesh also participated giving their views and a new exposure to the students.
